It's not always sunny in Athens!

On Friday 13th Feb (not a good day to travel) I left Llandudno at 9.30 for Athens via Manchester and Heathrow. I got to Athens at 2.00 am Monday morning due to a metre of snow on Athens airport runway. For the first time ever, a temperature of 0^o was recorded in Athens at lunchtime. I returned home on Tuesday lunchtime and arrived in Manchester minus luggage. The only consolation I have is that the Greeks have at last got four really good committee boats for the Olympics!

Beryl, our hostess with the mostess!

You missed it!

Ruth's 'Down and Outs Evening' was a great success. I got the feeling that many people enjoyed NOT having to dress up for the event. In fact, a good number of people dressed down for the event, which created a real 'soup kitchen atmosphere'.

Congratulations to the winners of the very valuable bingo prizes. A pity that the first prize was not won, (7 nights in a hostel in Liverpool!).

Thanks to the Brown family Ruth, Derek, Sian and Ceri, assisted by Sue Jones, for a good evening.

The Arcadia

This is due to be demolished in the next few weeks. It may cause a little inconvenience for a short time, as there is a possibility that some wagons may exit via Irving Road.

Anyone who has not yet removed their boat trailers from the rear of the Arcadia are advised to do so as soon as possible. The Sailing Committee remind you that any trailers left on the dinghy park must be under a boat! Failure to observe this rule will result in additional parking fees!

The Clubhouse

As many of you know, the Arcadia Theatre is about to be demolished and a new multi-purpose function hall built.

At last the Club can finally start to look at some form of re-development. Commodore, Hugh Lomas has set the wheels in motion with various groups looking at funding, the building and marketing of the Club.

A feasibility study will be done with a deadline of June this year to see if there is a realistic chance of making progress.
