Sailing Working Parties

While the club extension is being built, sailing working parties have to go on as usual to get the equipment ready for the coming season. These take place on Sunday mornings between 10 and noon on the following dates:

6th & 23rd Feb; 6th & 20th Mar.

Among the jobs to be done are repairing trailers; clean and maintain rescue boats & engines; organising Equipment Hut; organising Boat House; marking dinghy park; etc, etc, etc....

The Big Pour....!

Things are about to really move on the building site! We managed to get the footings dug and concreted, despite some of the coldest weather in even Tony's memory, followed by the wettest. With two successful work parties and the very significant personal contributions from Tony Lynch, Maurice Wigzel and Jim Williams we are now ready to lay bricks, starting Monday 31st January. We will be up to floor level by the middle of the week, and then it will be time for more work parties to prepare for the pouring of the slab, so please be ready to contribute and heed Phil Braden's call to arms when it comes.

The first major step forward was the concrete pour for the foundations, then the weather held us up again!

A thought!
